

Merger Update

The new look: Inspired by nature, uplifting by design

Hear how our new brand came to be from Annie Snead, Wings' Executive Director of Philanthropy and Community Relations

We'll be refreshing how we look but still offering the great service you've come to expect.

At Wings, our journey has always been shaped by the members we serve, the beautiful places we live and the values that ground all we do. To celebrate our unified future with Ent Credit Union, we're introducing a refreshed brand later this year.

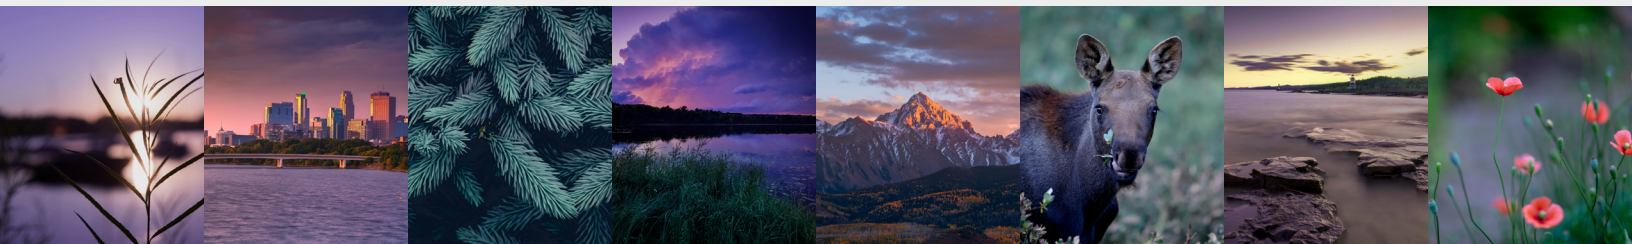

Our new look was influenced by extensive employee and member feedback and the colors may already feel familiar given they can be seen in the places you call home; sky teal, majestic indigo and other natural colors from our lakes to the sky.

The logo, with its familiar teal wing tip, represents a positive, upward movement. It reflects our promise to make progress personal and help every member thrive, while the modern and human elements speak to the wonderful people who serve you and to digital advances designed to make everyday banking easy.

Over the next few months, you'll notice the refreshed logo and colors in more places during a gradual, intentional transition. In the meantime, your accounts will continue just as they are. You can still use and reorder your current Wings checks. Likewise, your existing debit and credit cards remain valid, and we'll automatically send replacements when they're close to expiring. If something changes in the future, we'll share that well in advance and guide you along the way.

While the exterior of our buildings will start to show off some new colors, our core values will remain the same. We're dedicated to you – our members – and the communities we serve.

You Asked, We Answered

In our You Asked, We Answered series, we address your questions and concerns about the merger as part of our commitment to keeping you informed every step of the way.

Q Can Wings members do business at service centers in Colorado?

A Not yet, and we will keep you updated as the timeline is finalized. You can find all the Wings service centers and ATMs available to you at wingscu.com/locations.

Q Will my routing or account numbers change with the merger?

A Right now, you can continue to bank as usual. Routing number will remain the same. We are testing account numbers and are committed to making any transition in this process as seamless as possible.

Still have questions? Learn more at Wings.CUtogether.com.

Scholarship applications now open

The Wings Credit Union Foundation is now accepting scholarship applications for the 2026–2027 school year! The total scholarship amount will increase and include an additional $20,000 dedicated in memory of Trysh & Pete Olson. Both contributed for decades to Wings as team members, and we lost them tragically last year. This scholarship will honor their legacy and commitment for serving others for generations to come.

To learn more or to apply, visit: wingscu.com/scholarships

The Wings Credit Union Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization.

Stay scam-smart during the merger

Scammers are great at trying to catch people off guard. That includes taking advantage of tax season and when organizations merge or change their logo. To stay safe, check out these tips.

The verify-your-account scam

Be on the lookout for official-looking (and sounding) emails, texts, calls, and social media “from” Wings claiming you must verify your account due to the merger. These are scams. Don’t respond or click on any links. Instead, contact Wings directly to validate any suspicious messages.

Verify it’s us

As always, if you get a request for your banking or personal information, please protect yourself by verifying our contact information and reaching out to us directly. Scammers make it all too easy to simply click on a phony link within a message or use a false phone number they provide. When in doubt, call Wings directly.

What we never ask for

Keep in mind that Wings will NEVER contact you and ask for your digital banking login, PIN, security code, account number, full Social Security number or other sensitive information.

Stay informed

Stay current on the merger progress through our official site Wings.CUtogether.com. This may help you know the difference between valid updates and scam attempts. We’re happy to help make sure you’re banking with us securely.

Annual meeting notice

You’re invited to the 2026 Virtual Annual Meeting at 5 PM CT Thurs, March 19.
Registration is required at wingscu.com/2026AnnualMeeting.